All The Comforts of Home

Carolina Beach, N .C.- Police in this resort town figured the 67-year-old vacationer was overdoing it in making himself at home. They found him cooking his meals in a telephone booth.

Inside the little-used booth on Fisherman's Pier were a small oil stove, a frying pan, cheese, some eggs and cooking oil. An old broom was propped against the booth outside.

"We found out," said City Manager William Gary, "that he could not cook inside the room he had taken in a rooming house. So he went to the beach, but the wind blew sand into his food out there and he moved into the booth."

Officers made the vacationer sweep out the booth, then found him a room with cooking privileges.

Vanguard's Anniversary

Washington.- The Vanguard 1 satellite, a year old on March 17, has proved that the density of the thin air 400 miles above the earth fluctuates with the seasons.

Disturbances on the sun also may cause variations, but it may take more than a decade to find out how extensive and how recurrent both kinds or changes are.

This was reported by Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard.

Gas By The Truckload

Los Angeles.- A truck tanker slammed into a stalled auto and spilled 4,000 gallons of gasoline on the harbor freeway.

After 40 policemen and eight fire companies cleaned up the mess, officers asked Booker Williams why he had left his car there.

"I was out of gas," he told officers.

Williams was given a ticket. The truck driver escaped injury.
